- 1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119 (a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No. 09/084,954, filed on 5/28/1998.
- 2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 8-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Katoh et al 5,762,813 in view of Schonenberg et al 5,689,102. Katoh discloses as seen in figures 1 and 2 and in column 2 lines 19+ a laser light source which is removably mounted on the outside of a scanner housing. The scanner housing has a glass platen 6 which allows for a scanning beam to exit the scanner housing and a return beam to re-enter the housing. There is disclosed a cover 10 (column 3 line 42 - column 4 line 25) that protects the laser light module mounting aperture from the elements when the laser light module is not attached to the scanner housing. Katoh does not specifically disclose the plurality of scan lines or the multiple pattern mirrors or the rotating scan mirror as claimed. Schonenberg discloses, as seen in figure 2 and in the abstract, a scanner with a housing a rotating polygonal scanning mirror and a plurality of specifically positioned pattern mirrors for creating a multiple scan line scanning pattern outside the scanner housing as the multiple scan lines exit the housing through a glass platen. Schonenberg discloses an internally mounted laser light source. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the internally mounted laser light source of Schonenberg with the externally mounted laser light module of Katoh. This would allow for rapid and easy replacement of the laser light source for maintenance purposes. Likewise it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the specific mirror arrangement of Schonenberg in the system of Katoh. This would allow Katoh to effect a multidirectional scan of an objective volume.

- 4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ohkawa et al 6,283,373 is the patent issued from the parent application of the current application.
